THE MEN BEHIND THE JETS

The "Men Behind the Jets" have been described as foresighted, lucky, fortunate and astute to mention a few words — but the best description would be energetic.

Headed up by David A. "Sonny" Werblin, a five-man syndicate purchased the bankrupt New York American Football League franchise in 1963 and have turned it into one of the most formidable operations in professional sports.

The new owners bought the club at a time when no one else would take a gamble on the New York franchise.

They struck out boldly to create a fresh and exciting image for the Jets and have turned a "loser" into a "winner."

In 1962, the year before the present Jet management took over, the New York club drew only 36,161 fans. In 1966, the average attendance for the Jets' games at Shea Stadium was over 59,000.
On Oct. 8, 1966, a record-shattering 63,497 fans watched the Jets defeat the San Diego Chargers.

Through Werblin's leadership and the guidance of General Manager and Head Coach Weeb Ewbank, the Jets have been leaders in pro football.

Keeping their promise to "bring the best available collegiate talent to New York City," Werblin and his associates have signed such leading pro stars as Joe Namath and Mat Snell, back-to-back "Rookie of the Year" winners; Verlon Biggs, George Sauer, Jr., Gerry Philbin and Emerson Boozer to name a few.

The Jet owners have set their sights on bringing a championship to the fans of New York. Who'll say there won't be a championship flag flying from Shea Stadium in the near future?

DAVID A. "SONNY" WERBLIN, President and Chief Executive officer, is the dynamic head of the Jets organization. The former president of MCA-TV, is a trustee of Rutgers University and Peekskill Military Academy, a director of the New Jersey National Bank and Trust Company and serves as Secretary of the Monmouth Park Jockey Club. An established personality in the field of thoroughbred racing, Werblin is the owner of a stable of race horses. The Brooklyn-born Werblin, who has long been a pro football fan, rose from office boy to become president of MCA-TV, a post he held until his retirement in 1965.

DONALD C. LILLIS, Chairman of the Board, has a seemingly limitless reservoir of energy and serves as a director of nine corporations. A limited partner of Bear, Stearns & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, Lillis is the former president of Bowie Race Course.

TOWNSEND B. MARTIN, Vice President, is an internationally-known owner and breeder of thoroughbred race horses and is also actively engaged in the banking business in New York.
An original backer of the Monmouth Park Jockey Club in 1946.
Martin now has stables in Ireland as well as the United States.
He has great interest in hunting and fishing in addition to horse racing and pro football. He is also a director of the New Jersey National Bank and Trust Company.

PHILIP H. ISELIN, Treasurer, is the president of the Korell Company and has an extensive background in thoroughbred racing. The dapper Iselin is President and Chairman of the Board of the Monmouth Park Jockey Club. Ranking as one of the most popular and respected members of the racing fraternity, Iselin lives in Oceanport, N. J., the site of Monmouth Park.
Iselin is a director of the New Jersey National Bank and Trust Company.

LEON HESS, Secretary, is the youngest of the Jet Owners.
A native of Asbury Park, N. J., Hess entered the oil business at an early age. He is now a director, president and chief executive officer of the Hess Oil & Chemical Corporation of Perth Amboy, N. J. He also serves as a director of the Monmouth Park Jockey Club and of the New Jersey National Bank and Trust Company.

WEEB EWBANK

Head Coach and General Manager

Weeb Ewbank's middle name isn't "success" but it might well be. A man who thrives on challenges, Ewbank has produced success everywhere he has lingered along the football coaching trail.

When the present Jets' management took over the New York AFL operation in 1963, they moved swiftly to acquire Ewbank as head coach and general manager. He in turn has moved ahead to build a championship calibre club. He has developed two AFL "Rookies of the Year"—Joe Namath, 1965, and Matt Snell, 1964, along with such other young stars as Verlon Biggs, George Sauer, Jr. and Emerson Boozer.

Weeb began his career as an assistant at his alma mater, Miami University (Ohio), and spent 14 seasons there. In 1943 he joined Paul Brown at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station as an assistant. At the end of the war, Weeb became backfield coach at Brown University and head basketball coach. After one season there, he moved on to Washington University in St. Louis as head football coach. In two seasons he brought the Maroons their finest record in 30 years as they lost only once in 10 starts.

In 1949, Ewbank rejoined Paul Brown and the Cleveland Browns serving as line coach. During the next four years, the Browns dominated pro football winning the All-America Conference title then taking the NFL championship in 1950 and Eastern Division pennants in 1951-52-53.

Ewbank publicly exhibited his brilliant managerial talents when he moved to Baltimore in 1954. He took a team that was beset with disorganization, and within six years produced two NFL championships. Among the many stars developed by Ewbank at Baltimore were Johnny Unitas, Alan Ameche, Raymond Berry, Lenny Moore, Gino Marchetti, Arthur Donovan, Bill Pellington, Jim Parker and Big Daddy Lipscomb.

Several players and assistants who were under Weeb have entered the coaching ranks such as Don Shula, John Sandusky, Lou Rymkus, Art Spinney, Carl Taseff, John Bridges, Bob Shaw and Chuck Knox.

One of Weeb's former players at Washington, Charlie Winner, later became not only an assistant to him at Baltimore, but also his son-in-law. Charlie is now head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Weeb was a quarterback at Miami and was captain of the baseball team and a member of the basketball team.

A native of Richmond, Ind., Weeb married the "girl next door," the former Lucy Massey, also from Richmond. They have three girls all married with families.

SHEA STADIUM

Home of the Jets

Located in the geographical and population center of New York City at Flushing Meadows, Queens, William A. Shea Stadium is the home of the New York Jets.

Easily reached by car, bus, I.R.T. subway, taxi, Long Island Railroad, plane and boat, Shea Stadium has 45 acres of parking field — one of the most spacious parking accommodations in the nation.

Vehicular traffic utilizes a new $111 million complex of widened parkways. The I.R.T. Flushing line runs directly to the Willets Point station where a convenient overpass leads into Stadium entrances. The Long Island Railroad station is within easy walking distance as is the enlarged Flushing Bay Marina. Both Kennedy International and LaGuardia airports are just minutes away by taxi.

There are 60,000 seats for Jet football games — all totally unobstructed by columns or posts. Every seat has a clear view of the playing field. An ingenious system of seat rotation permits 10,000 seats to be moved electrically to positions which parallel the side lines of the football field. Over 19,000 seats are located on ground level and slope upwards for unexcelled viewing. Some 14,000 seats are on the second tier while 20,000 more are located in the third tier. There are over 20,000 box seats and an additional 5,000 temporary seats.

All seat levels can be easily reached by escalators and elevators. Upper level seats are reached by 21 runs of escalators in seven banks as well as two elevators. Escalators have a carrying capacity of 56,000 persons per hour. Seats may also be reached by 24 wide and gradually-sloped ramps.

Shea Stadium has one of the nation's most modern lighting systems with lights running in continuous strips around the cantilevered roof, eliminating all towers except for two banks beyond the end zone.

There are 54 public rest room installations located on all three levels. Each of the 27 women's rooms has its own lounge or powder room.

Evenly-spaced concession stands for light snacks and soft drinks are grouped around aisles at each level to make vertical travel unnecessary. For leisurely dining, there is an attractive main dining room.

In 1964, 1965, and again last year, the Jets established AFL attendance records at Shea Stadium. An average crowd of 59,396 watched the Jets in action last year. This topped the previous AFL high of 54,877 set by the Jets in 1965. The Jets also hold the record for the largest crowd to ever witness an AFL game — 63,497 — which watched the Jets host the San Diego Chargers on Oct. 8, 1966. That same crowd figure of 63,497 is the largest to ever attend an event at Shea Stadium. More attendance records are certain to fall at Shea Stadium during the 1967 season.

Jets on Radio and TV

All of the Jets' 1967 regular season away games will again be televised in color in New York by WNBC-TV, Channel 4. No home games will be televised in New York.

Jet fans will also have an opportunity to follow the Jets during the pre-season schedule as the five games will be televised back to New York over WOR-TV, Channel 9.

WABC-Radio, 770, will again carry all of the Jets games, including the pre-season contests. Merle Harmon returns for the fourth year to do the play-by-play. Dick Young, sports columnist for the New York Daily News, will again handle the color.
